

<http://www.catholicculture.org/news/headlines/index.cfm?storyid=9380>

An

Egyptian state security court has acquitted two men “known to be accomplices” in the January 2010 drive-by shooting of seven people outside a Coptic church in southern Egypt, according to the

US

Commission on International Religious Freedom (USCIRF).